

Rhys Walden – Goodlet – artist

Rhys is following in the footsteps of his mother Susanne in becoming known in his local community as an artist.

Rhys loves taking photographs and has started sketching. His self portrait – It's him – not me – is currently on exhibition in a community gallery.

Embracing the role of artist has prompted positive feedback from those who know him. It has also prompted people to rethink Rhys's ability and to encourage him to take on new artistic challenges.

