Starting Early: 10 Tips to support secondary students with disability to think about work

Is your son or daughter in Year 7-9? Have they started thinking about work? Unsure of where to start?
We've got you covered!

Come along and hear the top 10 practical steps you can take to get started in supporting your young person to think about work. Starting early is key and these 10 tips, informed by family insights, can help you get under way!

Who is this webinar for?

Families who have a son or daughter with disability in the early years of high school or whose young person hasn't started thinking about work yet. Professionals and allies of young people with disability.

What is School To Work?

The School to Work Project aims to inspire and equip students with disability, through the support of families, to actively secure jobs and pursue careers.

Guest Speaker

We will be joined by Family Leader Annette Bush, who will share her insights in supporting her son Jacob to live a good life in the community, including in accessing and maintaining typical employment.
