

Future Planning: Safeguarding the Good Life

resourcing inclusive communities

An initiative of Family Advocacy

Ryde-Eastwood Leagues Club
Monday 31 October
9am - 3pm

Online
Thu 24 November
9am - 3pm
via Zoom

Do you want to learn how to plan for a long-term positive and secure future for a person with disability?

One of the most common concerns expressed by families is the uncertainty about the future of their loved ones with disability, particularly after parents are no longer around.

This workshop will explore a range of considerations around planning for the future so that family members with disability have safeguards in place that work towards ensuring the things that are important to them are protected well into the future.

There is much that families can do now, so join us for this highly requested event to take the next steps

Join this workshop if you:

- Are concerned about the future of your family members with disability when you are no longer able to advocate for the good things of life
- Are looking for strategies from other families such as Circles of Support and Valued Roles
- Are interested in Legal safeguards such as Wills and Trusts
- Want to network with other families and share experiences

About the presenters

Catherine Hogan (both dates) will share practical planning tool and ideas used by her family when planning for the future of her sister

Nicole Lojszczyk (31 Oct) and Anne Cregan (24 Nov) from law firm Gilbert + Tobin's Pro Bono group. They will discuss the legal considerations when planning for a person with disability.

Who is this workshop for?

People with disability, their families and allies, who are considering how to plan a long-term positive and secure future

Bookings essential

www.ric.org.au/events/

$35 - people with disability & families*

$50 - professionals

*If cost is a barrier, contact us to discuss options

This workshop is being delivered through our Inclusive Lives: Possibility to Reality Project.

Questions? Call us 1800 774 764 or email info@ric.org.au